COACH
EDITION

Project smart. Project style. Project anywhere.

You're on the move, and you're taking your laptop and projector with you. The Coach Edition LP120, with an exclusive briefcase designed by Coach, allows you to travel light and in classic style. Ease and performance are built into the LP120's revolutionary slim form. So go ahead, pack light. And project a brilliant and stylish image.

The Coach Story

Coach, with headquarters in New York, is the leading American marketer of fine accessories and gifts for women and men, including handbags, women's and men's small leathersgoods, business cases, weekend and travel accessories, footwear, watches, outerwear, jewelry, sunwear, furniture and related accessories. The Coach brand represents a unique synthesis of magic and logic that stands for quality, authenticity, value and a truly aspirational, distinctive American style.

Sleek, stylish, modern.
And that's just the bag.

Travel light—and project a professional image. The Coach Edition LP120 reinvents mobile projection with a head-turning, truly mobile solution, complemented with a sleek Coach leather briefcase. The LP120 packs the functionality of a full-size projector into a form you can tuck in next to your laptop. It fits. And because the LP120 weighs so little, you'll barely notice it's even there. So change the way you feel about taking a projector on the road. It's easy.
